SARAH FOCUSES HER PRACTICE ON APPELLATE ADVOCACY, BUSINESS AND COMMERCIAL LITIGATION, ADMINISTRATIVE AND REGULATORY LITIGATION, AND ESTATE LITIGATION.

While at Robinson Gray, Sarah has written numerous appellate briefs on a variety of legal issues. Sarah's business litigation practice includes a wide variety of business disputes, including contractual disputes as well as legal actions between members of limited liability companies. Sarah also defends governmental entities and public officials against an assortment of claims in state and federal court. Through her diverse practice and experience as a judicial law clerk, Sarah has gained experience handling class actions, complex appeals, declaratory judgment actions, and injunctions.

Sarah graduated from Clemson University in 2016 with a bachelor's degree in marketing. She received her Juris Doctor in 2020 from the University of South Carolina School of Law, where she graduated magna cum laude, was the Associate Managing Editor of the South Carolina Law Review, and was a member of the Order of the Coif. Sarah served as a judicial law clerk to the Honorable John Cannon Few of the Supreme Court of South Carolina from 2020 to 2022.
