ROBINSON GRAY

Litigation + Business

Whether you need a streamlined or a more aggressive approach, Robinson Gray's Workers' Compensation Litigation Team will put solid insight and commitment to work toward the best possible outcome.

Our attorneys have the skill, experience, and determination needed to advocate your position. We work as a defense team alongside our clients, which means constant communication and feedback while navigating the litigation process.

Each attorney takes a "hands-on" approach, to staff the claim in an appropriate and cost-effective manner. We customize a discovery strategy to meet your needs and strive to exceed any and all expectations. We work hard. We are prepared.

Frequently we speak before audiences of workers' compensation professionals and conduct in-house seminars. We are proud to have been recognized by The Best Lawyers in America. We are the sole SC representative of the National Workers' Compensation Defense Network. Two of our members are coauthors of The Law of Workers' Compensation Insurance in SC, generally regarded as the most comprehensive treatise on South Carolina workers' compensation law.
